

DERRICK ASSEMBLY

DERRICK ASSEMBLY

Wagenborg Foxdrill teams are competent in assembly of offshore derricks and land rigs. Activities include trail fitting, assembly of the steel structure, installation of major components, installation of platforms, ladders, cable trays, wind wall and various other components and fixtures.

Over the course of years a wide variety of assets have been assembled by us: cluster slider rigs, desert rigs, arctic derricks, single and dual derricks. Projects are prepared thoroughly and in close cooperation with client personnel to ensure a safe and efficient completion of the work scope.

Our project team is proactive and builds on our experience in other fields to ensure all requirements are met. If required our engineering department is involved to design custom solutions for lifting and installation of components. A wide range of rigging and lifting equipment (including remote controlled winches and a Floating Ginpole System) can be provided to optimise project execution. Our teams are IRATA rope access trained to complete tasks in even the most difficult areas. We are IRATA full member, meaning that also risk assessments, equipment management and work procedures are compliant with strict requirements.
