

POLICY STATEMENT Health Safety Environment & Quality

Wagenborg Offshore acknowledges her responsibility for people, the environment and the supply of high quality services

With 'people' we mean all parties involved in our activities: employees and hired personnel, clients, subcontractors, suppliers and other stakeholders. With environment we mean our share in responsibly dealing with nature.

To realise good HSEQ performance and ensure continuity, Wagenborg Offshore is focused on:

- Preventing accidents and injuries;
- Protecting the health and safety of our people;
- Compliance with rules and regulations (Marine, International and national);
- Meeting requirements, wishes and expectations of our clients;
- Protecting the environment, preventing of pollution;
- Minimising the impact on the environment as a consequence of our activities;
- Continuous improvement of our environmental performance;
- Continuous improvement of our operational management and provision of services;
- Recognising, acknowledging and mitigating risks.

We do this by:

- Utilising a verifiable HSEQ management system which incorporates all processes and activities;
- Monitor, evaluate and improve our companies (core) processes and the HSEQ Management system itself;
- Setting challenging targets/objectives for continuous improvement of our HSEQ performance which are measured, valued and adjusted if necessary;
- Utilizing appropriate protective and work equipment, to protect people, assets and the environment in the best way possible;
- Openly communicating with regard to our HSEQ performance;
- Creating a culture in which our employees, together with the other stakeholders, dedicate themselves to achieving the goals which have been set with regard to HSEQ and their core tasks.

Everyone has his/her personal responsibility regarding the above, while carrying out their duties. Additionally we all have the right not to start new activities or to stop on-going activities, when we are under the impression that these cannot be carried out in accordance with this policy statement.
